

PRESS RELEASE

Paris, 24th February 2022

THE LOVE OF POWER OR THE POWER OF LOVE

At a time when we should all unite to face the challenges we face: climate change, pandemic, poverty, destruction of natural resources... bombs are raining down on Ukraine destroying human lives. Violence has never solved anything, except to create more hatred and revenge. How many more human lives will we have to sacrifice to realize this?

Faced with a brutal and distressing world where it is becoming more and more difficult to disentangle the true from the false, how can we be surprised that the reactions of men are still found in the recesses of identity, whether they are communitarians, nationalists or religious and lead irremediably towards wars, scourges of nations.

Today it is time to pull ourselves together, to avoid the irreparable and to stop the escalation of conflicts into which the love of power, the pride and the selfishness of States are leading us. Isn't it time after two years of ordeal by COVID-19, which has caused many traumas and loss of human life, to learn from it and review our behavior?

If the institutions, assemblies and international organizations that guarantee peace and stability in the world still fail to promote and educate people to live together in peace, then we will be faced with the most serious challenge of our time: how to so that women and men no longer feel dispossessed of their future, no longer think they are part of the immense cohort of the voiceless, and no longer be the plaything of forces beyond them.

What are we left with but to return to the power of love? Strengthen the bonds of the human family, sow hope among new generations, teach the Culture of Peace. This is the mission pursued by AISA International NGO.

AISA International NGO, faithful to its values, remains convinced that it is through dialogue, mediation and actions in favor of living together that humanity will be able to face up to its responsibility, that of bequeathing to our children a world in peace, a world preserved and rich in its diversity.
